AUGUST UPDATES and REMINDERS

It's Official!!

We have moved!

Monday, 21 August 2017

We are back!! Carolyn and Elaine have been rescued from under the mountains of moving boxes which have now – every one – been emptied, flattened and recycled.

And everything remains the same – except slightly different! All of our phones and internet have been restored and that contact information remains the same. As we settled into our new offices last week (we even put up some of the pictures) it has been exciting to return to our desks and our daily chores. Although our Postal Mailing (P O Box) address remains the same, please take note of our new location address and record it in all your files:

Effective immediately our new office location address is:

Our new OIRF offices are located in a smaller but bright and sunny commercial unit that we trust will be more efficient and more in tune with our everyday business needs for today and into the future. We are very happy with the setup of these new offices and appreciate your patience and understanding for any disruptions you experienced as we went through this period of change and transition.

I am back to work on the next Issues of “The Bridge” newsletter and preparing for the forthcoming fall seminar and conference season. I’m looking forward to meeting you at the highly recommended International Medical Conference, St. Louis, MO Sept. 29-Oct. 1, 2017. This is a not-to-be-missed conference so get your registrations in soon.

I also want to remind you to send in your registrations for the Germany Tour as early as possible. This tour is being strictly limited to a very small select group and only a few places are available. To ensure your place in this exclusive program (see brief details below) send in your registrations today.

Orders for the FIT and UBS devices from Medical Electronics have been pouring in and all have been brought up to date. So many orders in fact that for now the manufacturer is a bit overwhelmed and has run out of batteries for installation. Thus there is a temporary delivery delay of about two weeks on all current orders.

We are gradually getting back into our normal routines and publication schedules. We are once again able to receive your calls and emails and are looking forward to hearing from you again.

Yours in health,

Carolyn

P.S. I won’t bore you with all the adventures encountered while we were moving, but suffice it to say that we closed three real estate contracts and moved our offices and my home in the short timeline of about 4 weeks. Carolyn and Mom Catharine are now settling into a nice condo right in the city of Penticton. For the first time in my professional career I am not “living at work” and the new routine of commuting (5 minutes) to work is already starting to feel comfortable.

The one big adventure that added only a little bit of stress was on the day we moved the offices. I’m sure you’ve all heard of the wildfires ravaging British Columbia and the northwestern USA during this summer season. Well, as the big moving truck pulled onto the front driveway of our old West Bench offices, a police cruiser pulled in behind him as we watched fire trucks racing past and helicopters circling above us. A small wildfire had broken out on the mountain behind us, and we were given clear instructions to “evacuate now!” So we loaded everything office related onto the truck as quickly as possible, and with Mom Catharine in tow just left. Fortunately they were able to control and put out the fire quickly and everyone was safe. But it was exciting . . .
