➡ The Special 40th Anniversary Biological Medicine Tour to Germany program has been finalized and we are ready to go! Places are still available although registrations have already been received from Australia, USA and Canada. We are looking forward to hosting an interesting and varied group of practitioners during the three distinct parts of this program. Make your plans to attend now!

This very special tour program (with a journey into Switzerland to visit two large clinics including the Paracelsus Clinic) is bringing you a good overview of the many speakers and presentations we have seen during those past forty tour programs, but at the same time will bring you right up-to-date with all the latest research and development.

Here's a brief introduction to our keynote and featured speakers for this 40th tour program:

- Jürgen Aschoff, MD specialist for General Medicine and natural treatments. His fields of specialty include darkfield microscopy, hand-nail-face-tongue diagnosis, iris diagnosis, the electro-magnetic blood test according to Dr. Aschoff (his father), frequency diagnosis and therapy, homeopathic anamnesis, special energetic pain therapy, specialist of the techniques of Royal Raymond Rife.
- Reimar Banis, MD, PhD, ND is a doctor, researcher and author. His major methods include Vegatest (where he was the official instructor besides Dr. Helmut Schimmel), thermography, colon hydrotherapy, darkfield, Ozone, neural therapy, chirotherapy and others. Dr. Banis invented Psychosomatic Energetics (PSE) in 1998. He has lectured extensively on PSE worldwide. Trained as a Medical Doctor, Dr. Banis has the unique ability to bridge the gap between conventional and naturopathic healing methods. He is regarded as one of the most advanced and well-known experts in energy medicine in the world.
- Thomas M Rau, MD is the medical director of the world famous Paracelsus Clinic in Lustmühl, Switzerland. Dr. Rau has lectured around the world and is dedicated to bringing knowledge of natural and biological medicine to as many practitioners as possible. His fields of specialty include: Homeopathy, Isopathy, Darkfield-Microscopy, Thermography, Neuraltherapy, Chinese Medicine, Dietary and FX-Mayr fasting medicine, 5-element/meridian therapies, Bio-energetic information therapy.
- Prof. Hendrik Treugut, MD is founder and president of the prestigious "German Society for Energy and Information Medicine". He is also head of the Radiological Department of the Klinikum Schwäbisch Gmünd. His specialties include the latest complementary medicine diagnostic procedures and medical frontiers. He is responsible for development and realization of an EU-master course of studies including energy medicine. He will tell us about his latest research in these areas.
- Hear from the head of the Scientific Dept. of a large and highly respected German pharmaceutical company. It was founded in 1956 and is family owned and operated in the 3rd generation. Using a modern potentizing system their line of homeopathic, herbal and vitamin products are based on the procedures and remedies of the famous naturopath Pastor Emanuel Felke.

This jamb-packed program has been custom tailored for all levels of practitioners from the "newbies" to the "oldies", from those who rely on technology to those who prefer the supplement/remedy approach (or any combination), and primarily for all who are seeking effective and reliable applications for their professional practice use. Be sure to visit our website for full Germany Tour details. A full web page has been devoted to speaker bios & pics along with the many other presentations we will hear.

OIRF depends exclusively on member support for all the work we do – there is no government or outside funding. It is only through your support that this amazing tour program will be successful. Register for this program today, and make travel and practice arrangements before the busy fall season is upon us. Some portions of this program are expected to fill and priority will always be given to those participating in a combination of the three separate portions. Once again here is a brief overview of the speakers, dates and activities of this Tour program:

We will be traveling into the Alps and the area of the Bodensee (Lake Boden) on the Swiss/German border where we will tour and hear about three unique and exceptional Biological Medicine clinics:

- The Swiss centre for the holistic treatment of cancer, chronic pain, psychosomatic diseases (burnout, depression), chronic ailments (rheumatism, skin diseases, stomach and intestinal disorders), as well as dental diseases.
- The famous Paracelsus Clinic in Lüstmuhl, Switzerland. Dr. Thomas Rau will greet us and will also give us a short presentation about Live Cell Therapy and other methods they utilize.
- Back into Germany and another very famous clinic that utilizes a number of natural and biological methods for anxiety, depression, pain, immune weakness and allergies.

I realize it is difficult to take a full two weeks away from your practice – family, staff and patients will miss you and it's hard on the pocket book! This is why we arranged everything so you can pick and choose which parts will work best for your schedule. However, we already have registrations for the full two weeks and for Parts 2 and 3 combined. A Method of Testing Using the REBA Device

By Theodore J. Cole, DO, NMD
(OIRF Medical Advisor)

Dr. Cole can be contacted by e-mail at: tedjcole@gmail.com

© Copyright 2013, Dr. Ted Cole, Cincinnati, Ohio, USA

The Germany tour is coming up quickly and I thought that this would be an appropriate time to discuss one of the therapies being presented this year. Reimar Banis, MD, ND is the developer of Psychosomatic Energetics (PSE) which is one of many Energy Medicine approaches being used today. My topic in this paper is not on the therapy itself or its validity, but on the use of the diagnostic machine that he uses to determine therapy.

The REBA device is basically a stress test for several areas of function. These areas are named Vital, Emotional, Mental and Causal. Each area is tested separately, using a scale from 0 to 100. 100 is the score for “perfect” health in the area being tested. The areas tested are as follows:

- Vital pertains to physical health, well-being and stamina.
- Emotional reflects that which we normally think of as one’s emotional state of health.
- Mental refers to physical brain function and conscious awareness.
- Causal is a measure of one’s energetic sensitivity, intuition and spiritual openness.

The manufacturer of the REBA device is Dieter Jossner from Medical Electronics firm in Germany. Mr. Jossner is well known to many of us for his phenomenal BioPhoton Therapy and Laser devices, and he is also the developer/manufacturer of a number of other instruments including the AMSET segmental diagnostic device.

The Reba test device generates a square shaped polyfrequency spectrum, a magnetic field and so called Tesla-waves, in order to stimulate the body with neutral vibrations. This is different from other diagnostic instruments, such as bioresonance assessment devices, where the transmitted signal contains specific information.

The four frequency ranges produced by the device have an empiric connection to the four energy levels listed above (Vital, etc.). The machine creates “noise” within selected frequency bands matching the Delta (1.5 – 4 Hz), Theta (5 – 8 Hz), Alpha (9 – 14 Hz) and Beta (15 – 40 Hz) waves. The Delta waves correspond to the Vital area, Theta to Emotional, Alpha to Mental, and Beta to the Causal area.

In testing, the intensity of the signal is increased until it induces a stress response in the subject. The scale is logarithmic, rather than linear, and is adjustable from 0 to 100.

Electrical noise theoretically contains an infinite number of vibrations at an infinite number of distinct frequencies. This means that the desired frequency will always be present in the signal. If one presents these noise signals to the body, one’s system can then respond to these signals with their own appropriate frequencies.

The pertinent generated frequencies range from a few Hertz to a few Kilohertz. The device contains two digital noise generators made up of back-coupled shift registers. This results in the generation of pseudo-random noise, which then produces a polyfrequency spectrum extending up to about 600kHz. The outputs of the two generators are brought together to generate an interference signal. In this process, the frequencies above 200 kHz disappear because of phase and amplitude relationships. The two noise sources can be adjusted to yield interference frequencies corresponding to human EEG frequencies. This modulated HF signal is then presented to the person’s system and is used for diagnosis.

A bifilar-wound coil is utilized in which two opposing magnetic fields “neutralize” each other to yield a field strength of zero. Theoretically the superposition of two opposed magnetic fields results in no measurable field, but the energy conservation law does not permit a “null energy” state. The energies fed into the two sides of the coil cannot add up to zero and just disappear. It must be assumed that something unknown or non-measurable is formed, which is biologically active and penetrates any and all shielding material. Thus, the entire body of the patient is tested rather than just a portion or isolated compartment.

These characteristics make the REBA device ideal for measuring any agent or therapy. Using the REBA device for testing also adds greater reliability and some degree of measurability to the process. I typically use kinesiology to test patients with the REBA device in the following manner.

The strap of the device is placed on the patient’s wrist or ankle and a baseline measurement is made. At this time the device is set to zero on the scale that you are measuring (Vital, etc.). One then increases the amplitude by 10 and measures again. If there is no change, then the amplitude is again increased by 10 and the patient tested. This continues until the patient responds and the measurement is off baseline. This is a positive response in that it indicates that the person's ability to tolerate the signal produced by the machine has been exceeded. In other words, the patient isn't strong enough to withstand this degree of stress.

The REBA device setting is maintained at the level where the patient weakened. That is, if at a setting of 60 the baseline measurement changed, then the setting would remain at 60. One then begins testing by exposing the patient to different agents that might be helpful for them.

If the patient's response returns to baseline, then this agent will be effective for that patient. That is, if the patient "broke" at 60, but is now able to tolerate that level of stress when exposed to an agent, that agent has "strengthened" the patient and they are now able to tolerate the stress at the setting of 60.

One is able to also determine the degree of this effect by increasing the strength of the signal produced by the REBA. For example, if the patient could now tolerate the setting of 60 when exposed to an agent, one can continue to increase the strength of the signal until the patient "broke" again. This will give a score that can be documented and then compared to future testing.

Likewise, testing can also be used to determine what agents might be harmful for a patient. In this situation the process is reversed. One determines the highest setting on the REBA device that the patient can tolerate, and then leaves the machine at that setting. For example, if a patient was unable to tolerate a setting of 70, then the machine would be set at 60, which would be the highest degree of stress the patient could tolerate before "breaking". One now tests agents to see what would cause the person to now "break" at the setting of 60, which would indicate that this item is harmful to the person or that the person is responding in a negative way.

For instance, if a patient "breaks" due to exposure to a Lyme sample, it would indicate that Lyme is very highly suspect as being a problem for this patient. When used in this manner, one can now leave the patient in contact with the Lyme (or other) sample and test agents to see which ones would counteract this negative effect and enable the patient to once again be able to tolerate the setting of 60 (make the patient ("stronger"). This indicates that this agent can be effective in treating Lyme in this patient.

One can use this approach to test anything against the patient or against any other agent. The possibilities are only limited by the samples you have on hand. In addition, one can measure the effect of any agent on any of the above areas. For instance, an agent might be able to strengthen the patient in the areas of Vital, Emotional and Mental function, but weaken the Causal area. Ideally every agent should be helpful or at least neutral in all of these areas.

I believe that the benefits of any therapy should be able to be measured across platforms and systems. For instance, can the benefit of Pulsed Electromagnetic Field Therapy or EAV assessment be measured by the REBA device? I believe that it should, and in my experience this has been the case. As long as the parameters of a device or therapy are capable of being measured by another system, the results should be consistent.

One does need to be careful here, as some tests don't fall within another test's abilities. For instance, blood levels of a nutrient do not give the same information as nutrient levels determined by tissue testing. However, the results of a therapy and the therapeutic agents themselves should be able to be measured. In this case, a nutrient should test the same across all test platforms (i.e., as being either beneficial or harmful).

I have found the REBA device to be very helpful in determining the effects of a wide variety of agents and therapies and use it frequently in my practice. In the past Dr. Banis would only sell the unit if you took the Psychosomatic Energetics course, but I'm not sure if this is currently the case. If it is, perhaps Carolyn can persuade him to rethink this position and make it available to all. I believe that it can be a very useful addition to most practices when used in this capacity.

NOTE From your Director (CLWS): This effective assessment and therapy method has been in use for nearly a decade. Although this is not a method or device available through OIRF, it has been successfully utilized by a number of our advisors including Dr. Cole and previously by the late Dr. Craig Wagstaff. Dr. Banis will also speak to the group during our Special 40th Anniversary Biological Medicine Group Tour to Germany this fall. This device and training on it are available exclusively through BioMed Int'l in Canada and Terra Medica in the USA. Here is contact information:

➤ IMPORTANT THIRD & FINAL NOTICE to former OICS acupuncture

students: As most of you know, Occidental Institute first opened its doors in Weston, Ontario Canada on July 2, 1972. We began our journey to today's non-profit research organization offering continuing education training to an international group of practitioners as a unique and groundbreaking "school" for traditional acupuncture. Through the years of struggle with the orthodox medical organizations the Institute underwent a series of changes in our business format as we maintained the confidentiality of our member and customer lists.

After a number of forced moves (including an eight year stint in the USA) the Institute came back into British Columbia Canada in the summer of 1984 when we attained our unique non-profit research status. However, to maintain that status we had to cease all functions as a "school" – in other words we could no longer issue certification or accreditation. All of those old "school" records have been carefully maintained throughout the intervening years. However, it is now nearly 30 years since we ceased being a school and it has been decided that all of those student and school records can now be securely destroyed.

We wish to inform any former students or graduates of Occidental Institute of Chinese Studies (Weston, Ontario and Montreal, Quebec, Canada) and the OICS Alumni Association (Miami, Florida and San Bruno, California USA), that all records pertaining to their studies in those organizations will be destroyed during the month of September 2013 and prior to October 1, 2013.

Any former OICS(AA) students/grads who wish to obtain transcripts of studies must contact us prior to August 31, 2013. Thank you for your understanding and for your cooperation.

➤ Updates, Reminders and Announcements:

➤ Watch for the eighth 2013 issue of the "The Bridge" newsletter to arrive in your Inbox around mid-September with Part 4 (and also Part 5?) of the 7-part series of articles on The Spatial Structure of the ECM and Material Transport Within the System. Over the summer months I have been carefully working my way through translation of all 7 of these amazing articles. These were really tough to translate accurately and I am thrilled that we are able to include this innovative and ground breaking research within our newsletter. I am almost overwhelmed at the genius of this great researcher and practitioner. Prof. Dr. Heine will be presenting a lecture (in German) at that Medicine Week this year and I am looking forward to renewing my friendship and connection with him during our group visit.

➤ Are you looking for one of the former RM-10/S diagnostic devices from Med-Tronik? It was capable of EAV and Vega-type diagnostics and can be attached to a special interface unit to access the Electronic Test Sets. We have received notices from two docs who have slightly used RM-10/S's for sale. Contact Elaine today at 800-663-8342 to get contact and order information.

OXYGEN ION 3000

by Dr. Ivan Engler

Fully Automatic Inhaled Ionized Oxygen

The Oxygen Ion 3000/by Dr. Engler is a so-called oxygen-ionizer which enables you to enrich medical oxygen with electrical charge carriers in the form of "oxygen-cations" or "oxygen-anions". The administration of enriched oxygen is carried out via an oxygen mask. The oxygen quantity varies between 4 and 8 liters, yet the changed charge quantity has to be considered. The therapeutic session lasts 12 minutes. As an alternative, oxygen concentrators may be used instead of oxygen cylinders.

Because of the state-of-the-art processor technology, the respective polarities are changed over automatically, without having to switch the oxygen supply. A data interface to VNS Diagnosis allows an automatic therapeutic transmission from the diagnosis device VNS Diagnosis 3000/by Dr. Engler.

ORDER COMMENTS: Both the Oxygen Ion 3000 and the VNS Diagnosis 3000 units are in stock in Austria and available for immediate shipment. Price of the units is US/CDN ~~$5,735~~ $5,555 for the Oxygen and US/CDN ~~$5,685~~ $5490 for the VNS including shipping. The unit itself is shipped directly to you from the factory in Austria. The accessories and instructions are sent directly to you from the Institute.

CStronic

VNS DIAGNOSIS 3000

by Dr. Ivan Engler

As an ideal complement to Oxygen Ion 3000/by Dr. Engler, VNS Diagnosis 3000/by Dr. Engler supports your diagnostic procedure. VNS Diagnosis 3000/by Dr. Engler measures the capacity and the resistance between both gold electrodes and forms an optic display of the vegetative situation in the form of a LED-diagram. Of course there is the possibility to read off the measured values as direct numbers as well and can be interpreted individually. Because of similarities to the Oxygen Ion 3000/by Dr. Engler, a display of therapeutic proposals was also integrated. A data wire immediately transmits the therapeutic proposal to the Oxygen Ion 3000/by Dr. Engler, from which a further program selection can be started afterwards. The shape of the gilded electrode plates is handy and therefore facilitates the reproducibility of the measured results.
